Notes from the South Hill Orchard - October 2023

The first 7 trees were on planted back in June 2022 and they have all survived the hot and dry spells of the last 2 summers, albeit with some watering assistance in the first summer. Some sturdy tree guards have successfully resisted the attentions of the local wildlife. One tree even produced a small apple this year. They have not put on a lot of growth above ground yet, but in the first years, in a fairly open orchard, this isn't unusual.

The site is windy at the moment, though it is protected to some extent by a row of tall trees on the north side. This has been underplanted with some mixed hedging which, in the next few years, will thicken out the present hedge and provide a lot more shelter.

A further 20 trees are ready for planting this autumn with some stout tree guards. Some help would certainly be appreciated with this task! Contact Geoff or John g.b.hardman@btinternet.com or orchard@south-hill.co.uk for details

This would be a great opportunity for any children to plant a tree and watch it grow, just like the first 7 trees were planted by those in the parish as the photos show.

PLANT A TREE IN 2023

Apples have been the only trees planted so far, though it is planned to include other fruits in the future, perhaps when the site becomes more sheltered. So far, we have planted varieties commonly grown in the West Country in the last 150 years or so. We have avoided varieties that can be bought in the shops or commonly bought in tree nurseries. Apart from having a good proven record in our fairly wet climate, local varieties tend to resist pests and diseases better, partly because they have slightly thicker skins. This is important in an orchard where no spraying or chemical controls are planned.

We have planted eating and cooking apples and chosen varieties which are ready from August through to the end of the year. Some are sweet tasting, others sharp and crisp, but all taste quite different from the ones that can be bought in the shops.

Here are some details of the first 7 planted already.

Cornish Mother - A crisp apple used for both cooking and eating, ready from late September. The variety dates back to at least the 1880's. It was rediscovered as a single tree near Wadebridge.

Cornish Pine - A large deep red and green aromatic apple, ready from late September with a hint of pineapple when fully ripe. At local tasting events, it has often been the most popular one. It dates back to the 1920's.

Devon Crimson Queen (or Queenie or Sops in Wine in Cornwall) - A sweet and aromatic apple with a lovely crimson skin and sometimes crimson inside as well. It's ready from late August early September. Very widely grown in the Tamar Valley and was known in 1920 but possibly dates back to 1820 as Devonshire Queen.

Hockings Green - A green cooking and eating apple, ready from late October for cooking, later still for eating. Popular in the 1920's - 1930's. Raised by Mr Hocking of Illand Farm, Coad's Green about 1860.

Oaken Pin - A sweet and aromatic apple, ready from October. It's great for juicing. Originates from the Exe Valley and Exmoor before 1876. A pin, incidentally, was a tapered wooden door stop, like the shape of the fruit.

Rough Pippin - A crisp apple, ready from late September. Originating from Somerset before 1884. It was discovered in Rezare in the 1980's. It tastes much better than the name would suggest.

Claygate Pearmain - A crisp apple, orange and scarlet striped. It's good for juicing. Ready from late October. Dates back to 19th Century to Surrey, but has been found in several local orchards in this area.

Footnote:- This year, many apples were ready a full month early than usual, possibly because of the very hot spell following by wet spells. A sign of things to come or just a one off?

John from Mornick

Editor. For those that don't know the Orchard is on Golberdon Road by the Top allotments, these were created at the same time and are now all occupied. If you are wanting an allotment contact the parish clerk to be added to a waiting list.

St Petrocs Homeless charity in Cornwall.

St Petrocs, the Cornwall homeless charity which we usually support at Christmas, are in urgent need of sleeping bags, new or second hand, for their clients. I attach a copy of their X (Twitter) appeal. There is a link to their Amazon Wishlist page https://www.amazon.co.uk/hz/wishlist/ls/A2I7HAYT5GRC/ref=hz\_ls\_biz\_ex

If you can help please do. Sleeping bags can be dropped off at South Hill church at any time, or taken to the Parish Hall in Golberdon on Monday Mornings (9-11) when Sampson's Supertots toddler group is there. Alternatively I could collect from people's homes.

Many thanks,
Miranda on behalf of St Sampson's PCC.

St Sampson's Church, South Hill, news.

Have you ever looked at the Callington Cluster church website. Callington Cluster
We are doing a survey to gather people thoughts. Please will you complete this survey about the Callington cluster website. Everyone's opinion is wanted. It's particularly important that people who don't normally look at the website and/or don't come to church have a look and complete the survey - we really want to make the website contain the information which church goers and non church goers might be looking for. Can you find the information you want? E.g. who to contact to arrange a wedding or funeral, where and when the toddler groups run etc. What would you like to see, what puts you off reading it? Anything particularly interesting that you like.

Please return by October 29th by e mail on the form, or leave on the table at the back of St Sampson's Church.

St Sampson's Church update

What a wonderful concert on the 4th October kindly given by local shanty group Barrett's Privateers and a bar and pasties sponsored by; Rowes Cornish bakery, Cornish Orchards, Keltek Brewery, Tesco, Spar and Coop. We are very grateful for the above support and the generosity of the audience, which was a full house. We made a whopping £900 towards St Sampson's Unlocked Restoration fund and look forward to many more concerts like this one.

Harvest Festival this year included the baptism of Roy's great grandchild, another joyful occasion and celebration followed by our produce auction which raised £65 each for the Cornwall Air Ambulance and Ripple effect. Everyone went home with, flowers, onions, marrows and more!

Bio Blitz in partnership with Cornish mammals recorded common shrews, bank voles & wood mice along with a surprising number of spider species! We now have base line lists of mammals, insects, flowers and lichens. If anyone would like to compile a list of birds let me know. We have ten bird boxes made from recycled wood to go up soon, made by Wild Bytes.

St Sampson's Window Restoration

Thirteen is a good number for St Sampson's Church. All thirteen windows have now been restored to their prime with the help of thirteen grant funders and three individuals. A grand total of £53,000 was the required target.

Our funding research took us in all sorts of directions and we made some fascinating discoveries. Many pleasant hours were spent wading through family trees and church records. We discovered we had connections all around the world, as well as a short distance down the road.

The chancel (south) window is dedicated to Major Percy John Rice (1810-1850) and Lucy Maria Elton (nee Rice) (1814- 1846), brother and sister of the then Rector of South Hill, Revd. Horace Rice. The inscription contains the words "Ah my brother! Ah my sister!" Lucy Maria was the great Great Grandmother of Julia Rice Elton, who we traced. She was unaware of her family window but delighted to discover it.

Another connection was made with Baron Lord Clinton. The Trefusis/Clinton family were closely involved with South Hill and Callington churches for many years. The Trefusis coat of arms appears in three places in St Sampson's: the west tower window, on shields on the south aisle roof and on a pew frontal.

I have a fascination with one particular dedicatee who remains somewhat of a mystery. A woman called Mary Fookes (1754-1812). I spent many hours on a Cornish misty November morning looking at every gravestone in the churchyard. I didn't discover her resting place, but feel she is here somewhere. I also sadly failed to trace any living relatives of hers, but maybe one day someone will trace themselves to St Sampson's church and Mary's window.

My favourite window for its images is in the Manaton Chapel. The righthand side shows Edward White Benson (1829-1896), the first Bishop of Truro (1877-1882) and later Archbishop of Canterbury (1883-1896) holding a model of Truro Cathedral. St. Sampson of Dol, the patron of our church, is depicted in the centre and Frederick Temple (1821-1902), Archbishop of Canterbury after Benson, is on the left-hand side. Beneath these figures are pictures of a sower, a reaper and a gleaner representing not only the biblical allusions but also the agricultural nature of the parish of South Hill and the fact that the dedicatee family were farmers in the parish.

The work finally started, after further delays caused by bat legislation, in November 2021. What a wonderful moment in January when the first three restored windows were replaced. I don't think anyone realised exactly how much difference it would make. No more rusty bars, no more wobbly glass panes, simply beautiful windows letting in the light and allowing us to see the trees outside.

Five more windows were taken out in the intense heatwave of August 2022 and put back in December, amid freezing temperatures. The inscriptions could all now be easily read, the colours of the stained glass vibrant and fulsome. It felt like a true honouring of the families Trehaine, Body, Dunston and my mystery lady, Mary Fookes.

The final five windows were removed in May 2023, including the East window, which was a sad sight to see boarded up, but glorious when replaced in August. By the end of September 2023 all our windows were back.

How wonderful that all our windows are now fully restored. Watching the skilled heritage craftsmen of Dan Humphries Stained glass Ltd and C.F. Piper & son at work has been amazing. Their knowledge is immense, and we are very grateful to them for the sensitive restoration that they completed. And it came in under budget!

The Government and Cornwall Council want us to recycle better.

It's important to understand the new changes happening here, in the NEW YEAR. You'll need to recycle everything you can once the new food waste, recycling and rubbish collections are introduced in our area.

Rubbish collections will be limited to 180 litres fortnightly, not unlimited weekly as now. The new bins are for waste only, everything else should be recycled. Anything that does not fit into the 180-litre wheelie bin will not be picked up by the council. A reusable sack is an alternative to the bin.

Cardboard that won't fit in your orange bag, should be flattened and tied together. If you have more than will fit in your red bag, you can order an additional bag on line. HERE

- Paper
- cardboard
- plastic bottles, trays, tin cans
- glass bottles and jars

Rainy Days

It is difficult to believe that, not that long ago, at the height of summer, it felt like autumn. Northern Ireland and parts of England had the wettest July on record. Then, a month earlier, it was even harder to imagine that we had the warmest June on record! The weather affects our moods; especially if it keeps us inside for days on end.

Historians reckon it was the Achilles heel for the Romans and contributed toward their demise. Tacitus records Caesar saying:

'The nights are short and the weather miserable, with frequent rain and mists'.

Archaeologists have shown that settlers during this period suffered from lack of sunshine and vitamins (due to the scarcity of fruit) and they were often seen off by flu.

Rain frequently figures in songs to describe the melancholic soul:

Sunny days Where have you gone? I get the strangest feeling you belong
Why does it always rain on me? Is it because I lied when I was seventeen?
(Travis, 1999)

It is strange then to think that, in warmer climates, rain is viewed in a different light. We see this in the Bible. Paul speaking in Lystra to the Greeks, said:

'Yet he (God) has not left himself without testimony: He has shown kindness by giving you rain from heaven and crops in their seasons; he provides you with plenty of food and fills your hearts with joy.'* (Acts 14:17)

In El Jem, in Tunisia, which is close to the Sahara, there is a huge Colosseum. Part of Gladiator was filmed there. The temperature there was an unbearable 48 degrees Celsius in July. Tunisia faced its worse drought on record. It is hard to get our minds around the level of heat and drought many have to endure, as we sat here in the UK during a miserable summer downpour.

Yet rain is such a blessing, because it tells us that God is kind and cares for our needs. It is vital for growing food and something which brings us joy. Kindness, we are told, is a fruit of the Spirit and is something that takes time to grow and ripen in a Christian's character. So, whenever it rains, let us work at being kind to everyone, especially the poor and needy; whether they are on our doorstep or live in far-away arid places.

Blessings,

Joe (St Sampson's church Rector)

HAULAGE LORRIES:

Update regarding the haulage movements going through Maders and Golberdon. Following discussions between Chairman Dan Smith and Mr Glynn Le Marquand this statement can be made:

Just over 50% of the expected deliveries have taken place to date.

As the delivery schedule is controlled by the site of origin, it is not possible to predict when the deliveries will take place, nor can a definite end date be provided.

The haulage company have been contacted to request that deliveries are made in stages, where possible, so that there isn't a convoy of lorries blocking the lanes.

The roads are being regularly swept to clear any debris and repairs have been made where necessary.

Both the Environment Agency and Cornwall Council have made visits to the site to confirm compliance with the licence that has been issued for the work.

Wrap Up South East Cornwall

Do you have a thick warm winter coat you no longer need? Please donate it to our Wrap Up campaign. Coats donated to Wrap Up are collected by volunteers and inspected to ensure they are clean and in good condition.

Our motto of "Is this coat good enough for you to wear" ensures that only good quality coats are distributed via our partner charitable organisations who identify those in need.

E.g.

- Callington Food Bank
- The Soup Run Team
- St Petrocks

So, if you have a thick warm winter coat you no longer need, please donate it to our Wrap Up campaign.

Collection points can be found during October and November at:

- The Town Hall, Callington
- Callington Primary School
- Callington Community College
- The Old School, Stoke Climsland.
