Did you see the beach at Widemouth being excavated...

to bury the latest transatlantic cables landed on the beach.

Due to Widemouth Bay's location, the beach is ideal for bringing these transatlantic cables ashore. Such cables have been installed at this beach since as far back as 1963, that cable was a telephone line to Tuckerton, New Jersey that covers a distance of around 3,518 nautical miles and is still operational today!

There are nine cables buried on the beach already. One of the most famous cables is the so-called TAT-14 cable which carries up to three terabits of internet data, IT experts suggest that's around the equivalent of 250 million phone books every second, they also say that Widemouth now carries a quarter of the world's internet traffic!

Vodafone connects UK to the world's largest subsea cable system

- Vodafone is the landing partner for the latest landing of the 2Africa subsea cable, at Widemouth, Bude, Cornwall.
- 2Africa is the world's largest fibre-optic subsea cable system ever
- Connecting three continents and delivering more internet capacity to Africa than all the other subsea cables reaching that continent today.
- It will bring faster, more reliable internet connections to billions of people globally, from the UK cable hub of Widemouth, Bude, Cornwall.

With a capacity of up to 180 terabits per second (Tbps), 2Africa will be the first system to provide continuous capacity around the African continent and will connect 33 countries on three continents (Europe, Africa and Asia).

Vodafone will be responsible for: managing the physical cable coming ashore; burial on the beach; and installation into a new, purpose-built beach manhole, where 2Africa will connect to terrestrial cable routing back to the existing Vodafone Cable Landing Station.

Vodafone has been the partner for 11 landings of the 2Africa cable to date, with its experience in subsea cables tracing back to the landing of the first-ever transoceanic cable in Porthcurno, Cornwall, in 1870.

Hi, my name is Ash Lamb, I live in the Hamlet of Trevigro and have done for over 8 years, during this time I started my own company "Ash Lamb building and stonework", we had a great time over the three years we traded but it was time to move on, so My mentor and I joined together to create Marlam Construction Ltd.

Since starting we have built a team of 12, opened our own office and managed to build a great reputation among clients and professionals.

With our varied team, We cover most aspects of the construction industry from garden walls and leaky roofs to extensions and new build homes.

We are proud members of the federation of master builders and all of our work is guaranteed, we have carried out many projects in the local area and wish to continue to do so by looking after the people who live there.

Need Help in Your Garden?

St Sampson's Unlocked update

Have you noticed the doors into the base of the tower?

They are in dire need of restoration prior to the installation of the accessible toilet and we are currently applying to funders. The work involves both glazing repairs and repairs to woodwork, metal scrollwork, other metalwork and door furniture.

They have an interesting story to tell as do many things in St Sampson's Church.

A brass strip above the screen records that it was "Erected by Parishioners and Friends Easter 1888 to the Glory of God and in grateful remembrance of Canon F V Thornton late Rector & Mary Louisa his wife who for 22 years worked lovingly and earnestly in this Parish" 'Frank' Thornton was Rector during the 1871 restoration of St Sampson's, an indefatigable builder of mission chapels and mission rooms and a campaigner for improving the education of all classes. His preaching was apparently "marked by a singular grip of his congregation, as well as ready eloquence, pointed illustration and profound knowledge of the bible..." He is also alleged to have had "genuine sympathy with the mirth of the young" and been known for dragging his family to join in country dances "with the young of the neighbourhood". He was clearly an inspiring leader with a passion to the whole community. His vision for the restoration and reordering of the church in the 1870s ensured the survival and growth of the church and without him the church would probably not be open for worship today. Canon Thornton clearly knew the value and importance of church buildings. The screen is an important part of the story of our church and its restoration will be a symbolic milestone on our current journey of renewal.

We think a Hobhouse sister (visit the recently opened exhibition about Emily Hobhouse at St Ive, there is a gorgeous painting of St Sampson's Church), married a son of Rev. Canon Frank Thornton. I suspect there are other connections with the Hobhouse family. Please let us know if you have any details.

If you would like to donate to our church restorations you can here>

St Sampson's Church, South Hill, Cornwall, St Sampson's Unlocked project, - JustGiving

Plus THE PLANTS STALL is opposite the gates of the parish hall, all proceeds go to the church restoration funds.

The east window is also full of Thornton history with links to the Clapham Sect, Wilberforce and the anti-slavery campaign.

The east window is dedicated to Rear Admiral Samuel Thornton, 1797-1859, by his widow, Emily Thornton, sister of the then Rector of South Hill, Revd. Horatio (Horace) Rice. Unlikely though it may seem, this window connects our isolated rural parish with both the campaign for the abolition of slavery and John Newton, ex slaver and writer of the famous hymn "Amazing Grace".

Two of our Victorian Rectors, Horace Rice and Frank Thornton, knew William Wilberforce and probably knew John Newton.

Admiral Samuel Thornton was the eldest son of Samuel Thornton, MP for Surrey, a campaigner with his more famous cousin and friend, William Wilberforce, for the abolition of slavery.

Both men were part of the so-called Clapham Sect and Admiral Thornton grew up surrounded by that group and immersed in the early Victorian evangelical Christian principles which drove them. Wilberforce and the other campaigners were apparently regular visitors to the various Thornton family households<sup>1</sup>.

The Thornton/Rice families seem to have been close and our then Rector, Horace Rice, would also have met and known not only his sister's father in law, Samuel Thornton MP, but also William Wilberforce, and would have heard them talk about their great friend John Newton.

The unlikely connection between our little church and the Clapham Sect, Wilberforce, and John Newton, which began in 1841 with the appointment of Revd Horace Rice as Rector, did not end with his death in 1863. Revd. Rice's successor as Rector was his nephew, Revd. Francis (Frank) Thornton, Rector from 1864-1887. Revd Thornton was himself a grandson of Samuel Thornton MP and a distant cousin of William Wilberforce.

The church is open to all during daylight hours. Take a closer look at the tower doors and the east window and see Canon Thorntons grave directly behind the east window.

South Hill W.I

South Hill WI went to the cheese factory at Davidstowe for an evening factory visit. They were told about the various cheeses and the history of cheese making. Lots of tasting with hopefully no nightmares to follow. All were impressed by the tour.

CARAMELISED ONION AND GOATS CHEESE TART

For the Pastry

250g plain flour
30g Parmesan cheese
125g chilled butter, cubed
1 large egg, lightly beaten

For the filling

3 large red onions
2 tbsp olive oil
Few sprigs thyme
6 tbsp onion marmalade
1 tbsp red wine vinegar
Sliced goats cheese to finish

Method

For the pastry put the flour, Parmesan and butter in a food processor and blend to form crumbs (or rub together with fingertips). Add the egg and 1-2 tbsp water, then mix again in the food processor until the pastry comes together.

Roll out the pastry on a lightly floured surface. Cut out 6 rounds with a cutter and use to line tartlet tins, pressing well into the edges. Trim off any excess from the top and chill for 15 minutes.

Heat the oven to 200°C with a baking sheet in it. Place the tartlet tins on the baking sheet. Line the pastry cases with some baking parchment and fill with baking beans. Bake the tartlets blind for 10-15 minutes until crisp on the base, and pale golden.

Remove the parchment and baking beans from the cases, and leave the cases on the hot baking sheet.

Fry the onion in the oil with half the thyme, very gently, for 15 minutes to soften. Stir in the onion marmalade and vinegar.

Divide the onions between the tartlets, top with a slice of goats cheese and the remaining thyme. Bake at 200°C for 10 minutes until warmed through and cheese just starting to melt.

The next meeting of South Hill WI will be on Wednesday, 4th July 2024 at 7pm at Caradon View. Our President, Janet Corrigan, has kindly invited all members to a Strawberry Evening in her garden (inside if wet).

There are no competitions this month.

If anyone is interested in joining South Hill WI they are very welcome to come to the August meeting with no obligation, or to contact Jane on southhillwi@gmail.com.

Our visit with the Parish of St Ive Community Resilience Project

This group's intention is: "Let's learn from each other about improving energy efficiency in our homes."

Recently the project organised a tour of three local properties. All three were effectively newbuilds and demonstrate different approaches to building an energy-efficient home. Many of the ideas and techniques can be put to use on much smaller-scale projects.

The straw bale house at Pentiddy,

Brook House in Middle Hill,

and the Burntwood Eco house on the Golberdon Road.

Several members of SHARE went on this tour and were very excited by what we saw.

Burntwood Eco house was built by the film maker Tony Hill between 2003 and 2009. You can see the building taking shape on Vimeo here... Built largely from locally sourced, low impact materials, Burntwood was (and still is) ahead of its time, incorporating sheep's wool insulation, argon filled double glazing, a 'solar wall' to capture the heat of the sun, solar PV with battery storage, and mechanical ventilation and heat recovery. Recycled materials were used where possible – we were very impressed with the kitchen worktops made from billiard table slate!

Brook House was a very small, old cottage which has been renovated and extended. Local and reclaimed granite was used in the walls, in addition to slate which was mostly reclaimed from the site. The old part of the cottage is internally insulated, and the new parts insulated with polystyrene to a very high standard. The underfloor heating and domestic hot water are fuelled by ground source heat pump, with solar PV, battery and heat exchanger. Joe's computerised control system is a sight to behold!

At Pentiddy, the owners of the Natural Burial Ground have built their own timber frame house using locally produced larch and Douglas fir from Stara Wood, straw bales for the walls lined with clay. The house is fully off-grid, with homemade solar hot water panels, a wind generator, water harvested from roofs (with 8000 litres storage), and a composting toilet. Anthony clearly has a natural talent and a great feeling for wood. As the house doesn't have concrete foundations, it will leave no trace on the environment if/when it becomes obsolete. In addition, Anthony and Ele have planted many acres of trees, the Pentiddy Community Woodland, which is open to anyone who wishes to walk there, and both are involved in Tregovenek, a new 8 acre community farm based on the outskirts of Pensilva.

Our visit left us wondering why some of these sustainable solutions are not enshrined in planning law, and why there isn't a concerted effort to improve existing housing stock to much higher standards. Perhaps now would be a good time to write to the election candidates about this?

South Hill Parish Council meeting

Before the Council Meeting started a pre-meeting was held:

PROPOSED MUSLIM BURIAL GROUND: The meeting was attended by about 20/25 Parish members keen to express views on the proposed development.

It was explained that no plans have been submitted to Cornwall Council so as yet the Parish Council could express no views on the development. In addition, the public can express views on the Cornwall Council's planning website once the plans are submitted.

Representatives from the Gardens of Mercy Charity were in attendance and briefly explained their proposal and answered a few questions concerning amount of usage and need for the garden in South Hill. Concerns expressed by Parishioners included impact on immediate neighbours, water course ways and flooding risk, traffic, parking and speed along South Hill Road. (Editor has received a number of comments from concerned residents).

Details of the council meeting held on 18 June 2024 include the following topics:

CHAIRMAN: Cllr Andy Budd was elected Chairman of the Parish Council Tele: 01579 389328 or at andrewbuddshpc@gmail.com

CORNWALL COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVE: Cllr Phil Seeva attended the meeting and explained that he was standing in for Cllr Sharron Daw (Lynher Ward) who is on long term leave. Phil can be contacted on 07746 815302 or cllr.phil.seeva@cornwall.gov.uk

ANNUAL ACCOUNTS 2023/24: The annual accounts for the period were presented along with the Internal Audit Report and Annual Governance and Accountability Return (AGAR). These were signed and are available for inspection on the council's website.

TREGONNETT FARM LAKE: Notification has been received from Cornwall Council regarding the concerns raised by the Parish Council regarding the development. A Construction Environmental Management Plan (CEMP) will need to be submitted in order to demonstrate contingency plans and mitigation measures to control the risk of pollution to air, soil and water environments as a result of the development. Also the CEMP will be required to give details of vehicle movements to address the concerns of local residents.

RECREATION FIELD AND PLAY AREA: The biennial tree survey needs to be done soon with some work expected in specific areas.

FOOTPATHS: It was agreed that work could start on footpath cutting, paid for through the Local Maintenance Partnership with Cornwall Council. It is uncertain as to whether the same contractor as last year is willing to do the work. Anyone who might be interested in quoting for the work should contact Cllr Pete Tunnicliffe 07554 990984 who will provide details.

ALLOTMENTS: The allotments are looking a mess. Renters will be contacted regarding state of allotments.

UPDATE FROM:

Cllr Pete Tunnicliffe (for fully accurate information as to council meetings readers should consult the minutes of council meetings at www.south-hill-pc.gov.uk )

All communication should be directed to Jenny Hoskin (Parish Clerk) Telephone 07810 234417, email southhillpcclerk@gmail.com or write to Branston Farm, Bodmin Road, Bodmin PL30 4BB

Gardens of Mercy PUBLIC MEETING Tuesday 2nd July 7:45pm

There will be a public meeting at the Parish Hall Golberdon PL177ND, when everyone is invited to hear about the proposed development in Maders for a Muslim only natural burial ground, following the recent purchase of 10 acres by The Gardens of Mercy charity.

To date. Some were invited to The Balti King, Callington June 11th to hear about the plans. June 18th members of the GoM attended the South Hill Parish Council meeting June 25th Callington Town Council agreed for the Chairperson of the Gardens of Mercy Charity to attend the Full Council meeting to speak briefly about the proposal. No questions to be raised by Councillors or members of the public.

Accept this invitation to ask your questions. Write your questions down if you prefer it to be read out.

Apparently some surveys including consultation with South West Water have been completed without problems arising.

Images of literature GoM have produced here <https://south-hill.co.uk/garden-of-mercy/> and a larger map

Charitable objects

THE OBJECT OF GOM IS: TO PROMOTE THE ISLAMIC RELIGION BY PROVIDING FUNERAL SERVICES AND MAINTAINING LAND FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE MUSLIM PUBLIC IN DEVON AND CORNWALL, ACCORDING TO THE PRINCIPLES OF THE ISLAMIC RELIGION.

Comments received

Why do they want such a large piece of land for a private Islamic site...?

10 acres, when 15 burials a year expected.

Good farm land, shouldn't be lost.

Is the plan for a garden or a woodland to be created?

Other natural burial grounds close by, have space for other faiths. Why not use them.

Why Maders?

What advantages does Maders provide.

Muslims in the area. Stated 2800 in Exeter, 3500 in Plymouth, 1120 in Cornwall. Mosques/meeting rooms currently at Plymouth, Exeter, Barnstaple, Torquay, Truro. That's a lot of traveling to Maders or is the plan to have meeting rooms here.

Increase traffic on already busy narrow roads.

Water table, springs and flooding already issues here..

SUNDAY 14th July 3 – 5pm

Join us for a 2 hour tour of both Pentiddy and Tregovenek Community Farm.

Learn about coppicing, natural building, community enterprises, food growing, permaculture methods for land design, biochar, natural burial site, and opportunities to get involved.

Meet at car park at top of Attwood Lane, Pensilva, PL14 5QU.

Please email outreach@tregovenek.org.uk if you have any questions. FREE TICKETS > BOOK HERE

Church Matters

When my two daughters were teenagers I bought both of them a little plaque to hang in their bedrooms. They were Christmas presents and I always liked to buy them both something identical. I thought it was quite amusing and I was pleased with my purchase and fortunately the girls liked them too! The plaque read,

'I CAN ONLY PLEASE ONE PERSON PER DAY... TODAY'S NOT YOUR DAY, AND TOMORROW DOESN'T LOOK GOOD EITHER.'

They accepted the present with a smile and a laugh and hung them in their bedrooms. But I then had to explain that I didn't mean it in its totality – of course I really would be there for them both every day for the rest of my life. However I may not always 'please' them, but I would always love them. I would have to make tough decisions on their behalf and sometimes (often!) I would say 'No,' to their requests, even those based on the premise that, 'Everyone else's mum is letting them go...' or even, 'I'll be the only person without one!' Being a parent requires us to make tough decisions and know when to say 'no' – to know the difference between a 'need' and a 'want', but most importantly to help our children see and appreciate what they already have!

As a Christian I do find it easy to accept that God is a loving, present parent who can please and love more than one person a day. I know that there is no time limit! When we look around us with fresh eyes it is easy to see the many blessings we have been given but sometimes we need to slow down in order to appreciate them. Yes, there is hardship and conflict in our communities, in our country and in the world but there is also beauty and peace and love.

When Christians gather each week, sometimes on a Sunday in church, we gather to pause and reflect on a God that does have time for us – every single one of us. Whether we know him personally or have yet to meet him, he has time for us. We gather to think about the many blessings we often take for granted and we gather to say 'thank you' and to focus on being in his presence. God is patient and understands us. He is compassionate and generous but doesn't always give us what we want! But he can give us what we need. Discovering the difference can be hard.

We don't even need to be in a church to feel God's presence – time on a walk, in the car, doing the shopping or at work. What we do need is to find time. Just as God has time for every one of us we need to make time for Him. I remember a very wise vicar once saying to someone who had exclaimed that 'I don't believe in God!' - 'That's OK, but God believes in you, has time for you and He loves you.'

That moment when you realise, in a busy world, where time is precious, that God does have time for you, every minute of the day, every day of the week, every week of the year and every year of your life, is truly incredible. God accepts and loves us as we are, with all our flaws and offers us something special.

Sue Green.

DRAGON ALERT

Ten red dragons have invaded Cornwall and it is reported that they have made their homes in ten of our churches and one of these is at St Sampson's, South Hill and answers to the name Drago.

If you are 12 YEARS OLD AND UNDER please become a DRAGON HUNTER and help us find them. If you find one DO NOT TOUCH IT. Instead take a photo of it or draw a picture. Add the name of the church where it is hiding, also your name and address, and post it to:

THE DRAGON MASTER
EPIPHANY HOUSE,
KENWYN
TRURO
CORNWALL TR11JQ

You will receive a dragon sticker and become a member of the DRAGON CLUB. HAVE FUN!

(Parents look out for small notices saying HIC SUNT DRACONES if you see one you will know that HERE BE DRAGONS!!)
