Ring In The New? The Bells of St Sampson's: The Story so Far and a Plea For Help to Bring Them Home.

Who doesn't love the sound of church bells? Wherever you grew up, wherever you live now, for most of us they are part of the fabric of our lives. For centuries church bells have rung out to mark personal, local and national events. It is very sad that St Sampson's bells have been silent for so long.

But hopefully not for much longer! Can you help bring them home?

We need to raise £25,000. As soon as the money is raised we can instruct the bellfounders, where they are currently stored, to bring the bells back and they will chime out across the parish once again.

So what is the story of our parish bells?

As church bells go, ours are relatively old, and they are listed as "worthy of preservation". The four oldest bells were made/cast in 1698 by Exeter bellfounders John Pennington and John Stadler, maybe in the churchyard, which was common practice. There was probably a fifth bell, but this was replaced in 1831 by the current fifth and largest bell, the tenor, cast by William Pannell and his son Charles, of Cullompton.

The bells of 1698 probably replaced much older ones.

In 1684 Sampson Manaton died and in his will left £10 to the Churchwardens of South Hill to be paid to them within one month after they "new cast those three bells & make them fine". It looks as if there were already at least three bells at St Sampson's before 1684 – and Sampson Manaton didn't think much of them.

Originally church bells were handbells, used by early missionaries like St Sampson to call people to worship. By the late 900s most churches had hanging bells of some sort and wheel mounted bells became widespread by the late 1500s. Ringing 'changes', like the type of bellringing we know today, was taking place by the mid 1600s so Sampson Manaton probably wanted his church at South Hill to follow the fashion.

Sampson's instruction to "new cast those bells" suggests that the old bells were to be melted down and made into new ones. If this was so, our existing bells retain something of the originals which were there in the 1500s.

Sampson Manaton's will and the five bells give clues to stories of the parish, which needs more investigation. Each bell has an inscription recording the names of the churchwardens/priest at the time and/or those who contributed towards the cost of the bells.

The four 1698 Pennington bells

- When I you call then follow me all (the smallest bell 27" weighing 3 ¼ cwt)
- Adam Wills Warden - John Luggar (28" bell weighing 3 ¾ cwt)
- George Matthew – Stephen Trehane – John Welke (29" bell weighing 4 cwt)
- Samson Grills – Adam ChWarden – Will Dicken (33" bell weighing 5 ¾ cwt)

The 1831 Pannell bell

- Revd. E Budge – James Sowden Warden (the tenor bell , 36" diameter and weighing 7 ½ cwt – it only just fitted down the tower when the bells were removed).

We know a little about some of these men (all men!) from the parish and other records, but it would be good to find out more. Help can be given to anyone interested in doing some research.

We haven't been able to find anything about bellringers at St Sampson's. Any information would be very helpful. The late Charles Harding of Brookfield, South Hill, organist at St Sampson's, used to chime one of the bells until about 2010, when the PCC was advised that the bell frame was unsafe, but we don't know when they were last rung properly. Taylors the Bellfounders told us that "the relatively small amount of clapper wear on the bells suggests that they have not been rung a great deal since 1831 and given their current condition, they have probably not been rung for a number of decades".

This suggestion is given weight by a wonderful 1958 article in a bellringing journal, 'The Ringing World' headed "Examine Unringable Bells". Tells of an expedition to St Sampson's by six bellringers from Truro and London who persuaded the then Churchwardens, Mr Brock and Mr Brent, to allow them access to the previously forbidden bell chamber, following the retirement of the previous Rector, Mr Marsh. Mr Marsh had apparently refused to allow the bells to be rung because he thought them unsafe. The intrepid bellringers carried out an inspection, did a bit of oiling of metal parts and installed new bell ropes. They pronounced the bells safe and proceeded to ring "a perfect six-score of Grandsire Doubles". The article goes on to say that "one or two curious villagers made their way to the tower, and one of the churchwardens told us that this was the first time his sixteen year old daughter had heard the bells". After that exciting event, we suspect that the bells remained largely or completely silent for many years.

Was the sixteen year old, Hilda Brent or one of Mr Brock's daughters? Does anyone have any memories or other information to add to all this?

So why were the bells taken down and what happens next?

Advice from specialists from two different bell foundries was clear. The bell frame was dangerously rotten, the bell metal in the four oldest bells was too thin to be safely tuned without cracking and even if it was attempted "the bells are so far out of tune with modern expectation that sympathetic corrective tuning would not be possible". In other words, they would sound awful. This was very disappointing, but the advice was clear. The bells could never be rung again and a decision had to be made.

In December 2020 the PCC reluctantly agreed to accept expert advice that the best solution was to remove the bells from the tower, have them properly conserved and restored by bellfounders Taylors of Loughborough, fitted with new headstocks, and rehung for stationary electronic chiming.

Thanks to local fundraising and grant funding £4800 was raised, enough to begin the process, and in November 2023, with the help of a great team of volunteers, the bells were brought down, and we waved them off to Loughborough on the back of a flatbed truck.

It is time to bring them back and we need your help again. The cost will be £25,000. So far nearly £3,000 has been raised. Can you help us to raise the remaining £22,000? We are applying for grants but need match funding. Can you organise a fundraiser or give a donation. 23 January This week, I attended the Westminster Hall Debate on the Listed Places of Worship Grant Scheme.

This is an important scheme to many rural communities in South East Cornwall. It supports the preservation and repair of our historic churches, often beautiful Grade 1 listed buildings like St Sampson's Church.

I'm very pleased to see the Heritage Minister's announcement yesterday that the scheme will be extended into the next financial year. This is great news and will ensure that the hardworking and determined communities restoring these treasures continue to receive vital support.

St Sampsons Unlocked

Good news and not so good news. Continuing is good but only guaranteed for a year and capped at £25k a year per church. This year at St Sampson's we are expecting a spend of £250k on a roof project and £50k on other works so that's £60k of VAT of which we can only claim back £25. That means we need to raise a further £35k!

Please keep campaigning for this scheme to be permanent and not capped and other financial support for what is everyone's heritage buildings.

Come along for a chat with Cllr Linda Taylor, Leader of Cornwall Council

Linda Taylor leads Cornwall Council's Cabinet – which is the group of councillors responsible for making most of the decisions at Cornwall Council.

Linda has been holding public meetings, to meet and hear from Cornwall's residents. So far Linda has been to Callington, Falmouth, Helston, Perranporth, Bude, Bodmin, St Austell, Truro, Penzance, Redruth and Saltash.

You can read the questions asked and responses given at each of those events, in the summary reports HERE>

<https://letstalk.cornwall.gov.uk/listening-to-you> Callington report HERE

Linda will be visiting Camborne, Newquay, Launceston and St Agnes, as well as Penwithick
19 February, 1pm , Launceston Town Hall, Western Road, PL15 7AR

Hearing directly from people helps Linda, and her Cabinet colleagues, to understand what is on people's minds. Linda wants to meet as many people in as many communities as possible.

You do not have to agree with other people's opinion but we ask you to be respectful and considerate.

"I want to really listen to local residents, businesses and community groups and hear what they see as the local priorities and how we can work together to make Cornwall an even better place.

I also hope to hear from them about how we can work with communities for a Carbon Neutral Cornwall, where everyone can start well, live well and age well."

Cllr Linda Taylor, Leader of Cornwall Council

South Hill Parish Council

Details of the council meeting held on 21 Jan 2025 include the following topics:

PLANNING APPLICATION PA24/09791:

South Hill Parish Hall Golberdon - "Proposed extension and associated works, installation of additional solar panels to the extension roof and replacement of existing hall roof"
The Parish Council considered that it has a vested interest in the Hall and so could not comment on the application as a body. However individuals were encouraged to comment on the plans via the Planning Portal: here

ADDITIONAL EQUIPMENT FOR THE PLAYGROUND:

Using a grant from the Community Chest Fund the Parish Council agreed, subject to grant approval, to purchase a Spring rider or 'Springy'. There is currently only a chair swing which is designed specifically for the under 5s, this would also cater for this young age group. The equipment is robust enough for a public children's play area. The Parish council discussed installation of the equipment but decided to see how much grant was available before making the decision.

THE RECREATIONAL FIELD:

Additional parking: having decided generally how to proceed with the additional parking, the council awaits quotes for processing the Planning application. A stone at ground level reportedly within the cricket area will be assessed for removal. The Hedge on the north side of the area will be cut soon.

FOOTPATH: A new gate has been fitted on the Woodlands path. The accompanying cattle retaining fence will be fitted over the next few weeks. This should enable the obstruction to footpath 638/20/1 to be removed.

A388 COMMUNITY ROAD SAFETY CAMPAIGN:

The Council were briefed on Cornwall Council's road safety campaign soon to begin. (Not yet) The road can be extremely busy at times with a considerable number of large vehicles. This initial phase is to raise the profile of the campaign so that public support can be gained. Comments will be able to be made on CC web site PLUS here on FB www.facebook.com/TamarToMoorCAP

TAYLOR SHOP:

The fast moving traffic through the area and the proximity of small children is causing concern. The Council will ask if a children sign can be placed in the area in an attempt to slow traffic.

ENTRANCE TO THE ORCHARD:

Proposed changes were presented to the council as to the entrance to the orchard (shown on the picture). The allotments are not required with a strip of land between the current gate entrance and the orchard left to allow access to the orchard and some off road parking. The gate will be re-sited next to the orchard and the fence moved and used to separate the new entrance area from the old allotment area.

UPDATE FROM: Cllr Pete Tunnicliffe (for fully accurate information as to council meetings readers should consult the minutes of council meetings at www.south-hill-pc.gov.uk)

All communication should be directed to Jenny Hoskin (Parish Clerk) Telephone 07810 234417 or email southhillpcclerk@gmail.com or write to Branston Farm, Bodmin Road, Bodmin PL30 4BB
